We've got a great track record. Candy Powell and her dedicated team of professionals at the Tanya Powell Model Agency have been discovering and training Australia's models for over 30 years.

Some have gone on to enjoy great success in Australia and overseas. Many have taken up part-time modelling.

But just about all of them would agree that they've walked away with much more confidence and style.

We've got great facilities and teachers.

Our purpose-designed training studio has state of the art facilities.

It is fully equipped for photography, filming, makeup and hair and beauty tuition, and it has a full-sized catwalk.

Our professional instructors not only know the business, they know how to teach it.

It doesn't stop with Graduation.

We give after-course assistance to each graduate and we don't charge registration fees.

We provide friendly, personalised help with folios and composite cards. Our booking agency will help you get started.
